D7SAT's Ultimate 650 SAT Vocabulary List

In this file, you can learn the most authentic 650 high-frequency words that have appeared in the Official Digital SAT exams since March, 2023. Whether you're aiming for a perfect (800) verbal score or simply want to improve your comprehension, mastering these words will give you a significant advantage.

This file is exclusive to the D7SAT Telegram channel and is tailored for students seriously committed to maximizing their SAT EBRW potential.

Feel free to share it with others, but please also respect the author's efforts and do not modify or reformat any part of this file.

1. Illusory — based on illusion; not real or true; deceptive.
2. Imposing — grand and impressive in appearance.
3. Ingenious — clever, original, and inventive.
4. Meticulous — showing great attention to detail; very careful and precise.
5. Pristine — in its original condition; unspoiled or clean.
6. Affecting — causing emotion or touching the feelings.
7. Engender — to cause or give rise to (a feeling, situation, or condition).
8. Constrict — to make narrower, tighter, or smaller.
9. Honor — high respect; to regard with great respect and esteem.
10. Repudiate — to reject or refuse to accept.
11. Pervasive — spreading widely throughout an area or group of people.
12. Credible — believable or convincing.
13. Assertive — confident and forceful in expressing opinions or desires.
14. Profound — very great or intense; showing deep insight.
15. Anticipate — to expect or look forward to something.
16. Withdraw — to remove or take away; to retreat or pull back.
17. Steer — to guide or control the direction of something.
18. Controversy in — public disagreement or heated discussion within a topic or field.
19. Exposure to — the state of being introduced to or affected by something.
20. Dependence on — reliance on or need for something or someone.
21. Advancement in — progress or development in a particular area.
22. Prolong — to extend the duration of something.
23. Counteract — to act against or neutralize the effect of something.
24. Trigger — to cause something to start or happen.
25. Soothe — to calm or relieve pain or distress.
26. Indifferent — having no particular interest or sympathy; unconcerned.
27. Revolted — disgusted or shocked by something.

28. Superior — higher in rank, status, or quality.

29. Fusion — the process or result of joining two or more things together.

30. Dismissal — the act of sending someone away or rejecting something.

31. Critique — a detailed analysis and assessment.

32. Simplification — the process of making something simpler or easier to understand.

33. Restate — to say something again or differently.

34. Detect — to discover or identify the presence of something.

35. Enroll — to officially register as a member or participant.

36. Value — the importance, worth, or usefulness of something.

37. Disregard — to pay no attention to; ignore.

38. Display — to show or exhibit.

39. Irrelevant to — not related or applicable to something.

40. Prohibitive in — serving to forbid or prevent something by making it difficult or costly.

41. Distinctive to — characteristic of and unique to something.

42. Constrain — to limit or restrict.

43. Undermine — to weaken or damage gradually or insidiously.

44. Captivated by — strongly attracted or fascinated by something.

45. Predictable — able to be foreseen or expected.

46. Timeworn — damaged or impaired by age or use; old-fashioned.

47. Accentuate — to make something more noticeable or prominent.

48. Rectify — to correct or put right.

49. Obscure — not well known; unclear or difficult to understand.

50. Nebulous — vague, unclear, or ill-defined.

51. Unprecedented — never done or known before; without previous example.

52. Concrete — existing in a real, tangible form; specific and definite.

53. Spectacle — an impressive or unusual sight or display.

54. Reproduction — the process of making a copy or duplicate of something.

55. Pretentiousness — the quality of trying to appear more important or clever than one really is.

56. Disguise — something that changes appearance to hide identity.

57. Enduring — lasting for a long time; durable.

58. Conspicuous — easily seen or noticed; attracting attention.

59. Deserving — worthy of reward or praise.

60. Uncertain — not sure or definite; doubtful.

61. Equivocal — ambiguous; open to more than one interpretation.

62. Persuasive — able to convince or influence someone.

63. Exclusive — limited to a particular group; not shared.

64. Irreproachable — faultless; beyond criticism.

65. Unequivocal — leaving no doubt; clear and unambiguous.

66. Insuperable — impossible to overcome.

67. Ineluctable — inevitable; unable to be avoided.

68. Precede — to come before in time or order.

69. Designate — to officially choose or appoint someone or something for a specific purpose.

70. Nurture — to care for and encourage growth or development.

71. Preclude — to prevent or make impossible.

72. Assess — to evaluate or estimate the nature, quality, or value of something.

73. Unvarying — not changing; constant.

74. Objective — based on facts, not influenced by personal feelings or opinions.

75. Reciprocate — to give or feel in return; respond mutually.

76. Annotate — to add notes or comments to a text or diagram.

77. Equalize — to make equal or uniform.

78. Achieved — successfully reached a goal or completed a task.

79. Eccentric — unconventional or slightly strange behavior or style.

80. Meager — lacking in quantity or quality; insufficient.

81. Conventional — based on or in accordance with what is generally done or believed.

82. Random — made or done without method or conscious decision.

83. Tough — strong and durable; difficult to break or deal with.

84. Hideous — extremely ugly or unpleasant.

85. Irresolvable — impossible to solve or fix.

86. Self-contradictory — containing opposing or conflicting statements or ideas.

87. Imperative — of vital importance; necessary.

88. Unavoidable — certain to happen; impossible to avoid.

89. Convince — to persuade someone to believe or do something.

90. Distract — to divert attention away from something.

91. Fluctuate — to change or vary irregularly.

92. Testify — to give evidence or bear witness, especially in a legal context.

93. Conflict — a serious disagreement or argument.

94. Mock — to make fun of or ridicule.

95. Apprised of — informed or notified about something.

96. Unsympathetic to — showing no pity or understanding toward someone or something.

97. Cited in — mentioned or referred to in a particular source.

98. Placated by — calmed or pacified by something.

99. Dispersed — scattered or spread over a wide area.

100. Customary — according to the usual practices or traditions.

101. Amorphous — lacking a clear shape or form; shapeless.

102. Neutral — not taking sides; unbiased or impartial.

103. Stipulate — to specify a condition or requirement clearly.

104. Supplant — to replace something, often by force or strategy.

105. Musical — relating to music; having a pleasant sound.

106. Distinctive — clearly different or characteristic of something.

107. Beneficial — helpful or good; producing a positive effect.

108. Misconstrued — misunderstood or interpreted incorrectly.

109. Catalyzing — causing or speeding up a reaction or change.

110. Appraising — evaluating or judging the value or quality of something.

111. Exploiting — using something or someone unfairly for benefit.

112. Monetizing — converting something into money or a source of income.

113. Voluntarily — done by choice or free will, without being forced.

114. Tenderly — gently and with care or affection.

115. Mitigate — to make something less severe, serious, or painful.

116. Venerate — to regard with great respect or reverence.

117. Satiate — to satisfy fully, especially hunger or desire.

118. Orthodox — following established or traditional beliefs or practices.

119. Redundancy — unnecessary repetition or duplication.

120. Recurrent — occurring repeatedly or periodically.

121. Complaint about — an expression of dissatisfaction concerning something.

122. Unbothered by — not disturbed or troubled by something.

123. Hesitant — uncertain or slow to act due to doubt or fear.

124. Inconsequential — not important or significant.

125. Momentous — of great importance or significance.

126. Benevolent — kind and generous.

127. Genuine — authentic, real, or sincere.

128. Repository — a place where things are stored or collected.

129. Disparity — a great difference or inequality.

130. Vindicate — to clear someone of blame or suspicion.

131. Petition — a formal request, often signed by many people.

132. Synopsis — a brief summary or general overview.

133. Supposition — an assumption or hypothesis without proof.

134. Register — to record or enroll officially.

135. Impeding — obstructing or slowing the progress of something.

136. Individualistic — showing independence or uniqueness in thought or behavior.

137. Uncontroversial — not likely to cause disagreement or argument.

138. Homogeneous — made up of parts that are all the same kind.

139. Heterogeneous — made up of different kinds or types.

140. Theoretical — based on ideas or theory rather than practice.

141. Crumble — to break into small pieces or collapse gradually.

142. Startle — to surprise or frighten suddenly.

143. Familiarize — to make someone well-acquainted or knowledgeable about something.

144. Overlook — to fail to notice or consider something.

145. Modest — not overly proud or boastful; humble.

146. Paucity — a small amount or scarcity.

147. Sympathy — understanding or sharing someone else's feelings, especially sadness.

148. Tenuous — very weak or slight; insubstantial.

149. Interdependent — mutually reliant on each other.

150. Unyielding — firm; not giving way under pressure.

151. Comprehensive — complete and including everything necessary.

152. Indication of — a sign or piece of evidence that suggests something.

153. Rarely — not often; infrequently.

154. Buttress — to support or strengthen something.

155. Antagonistic toward — hostile or opposed to someone or something.

156. Imitated by — copied or reproduced by someone else.

157. Inconsequential to — not important or relevant to something.

158. Suspicion — a feeling or belief that something is wrong or likely true without proof.

159. Assumption — something accepted as true without proof.

160. Partition — a division or separation into parts.

161. Refute — to prove something wrong or false.

162. Vacate — to leave a place empty or to give up a position.

163. Visualize — to form a mental image of something.

164. Stretching toward — reaching out or extending in the direction of something.

165. Clumsily — in an awkward or uncoordinated way.

166. Reliably — consistently and dependably.

167. Enhancement — an improvement or increase in quality or value.

168. Fabrication — something made up or invented; a lie or falsehood.

169. Revelation — a surprising or unknown fact made known.

170. Ineligible — not qualified or allowed to do or be something.

171. Reluctant — unwilling or hesitant to do something.

172. Precariousness — the state of being uncertain or unstable.

173. Exactitude — the quality of being very accurate or precise.

174. Resilience — the ability to recover quickly from difficulties.

175. Inconspicuousness — the quality of not attracting attention.

176. Hesitancy about — uncertainty or delay in deciding or acting.

177. Exception — something that does not follow a rule or pattern.

178. Affinity — a natural liking or attraction to something.

179. Insensible to — not aware of or affected by something.

180. Manifest in — clearly shown or demonstrated in something.

181. Infer — to conclude based on evidence and reasoning.

182. Complicated by — made more complex or difficult because of something.

183. Corroborate — to confirm or support a statement or idea with evidence.

184. Convening with — coming together or meeting with others.

185. Scrutinize — to examine carefully and in detail.

186. Extrapolate from — to estimate or infer something based on known information.

187. Recognize — to identify something as known or familiar.

188. Launch — to start or introduce something, such as a project or product.

189. Minimize — to reduce something to the smallest possible amount or degree.

190. Symbolize — to represent or stand for something else.

191. Conceal — to hide or keep something secret.

192. Prestige — widespread respect and admiration based on achievements.

193. Reliable — able to be trusted or depended on.

194. Assistance — help or support.

195. Verifiable — able to be checked or proven true.

196. Infinitesimal — extremely small; tiny.

197. Supportive — providing encouragement or help.

198. Empty — containing nothing; vacant.

199. Prediction — a statement about what will happen in the future.

200. Emulate — to imitate or strive to equal someone or something.

201. Install — to set up or put something in place so it is ready to use.

202. Exhaust — to use up completely or to tire out.

203. Duplicate — an exact copy of something.

204. Hastily — done quickly and without careful thought.

205. Nonstop — continuing without any breaks or pauses.

206. Compensated for — made up for something lost or lacking.

207. Coincide with — to happen at the same time as something else.

208. Clash with — to conflict or disagree with someone or something.

209. Calibration with — the process of adjusting or aligning with a standard.

210. Incentive for — a reason or motivation to do something.

211. Protect — to keep safe from harm or danger.

212. Candor — honesty and straightforwardness.

213. Reverence — deep respect or admiration.

214. Prudence — careful good judgment that avoids risks.

215. Exhaustive — thorough and complete.

216. Superficial — concerned only with the obvious or surface details.

217. Questionable — doubtful or uncertain.

218. Imaginative — creative and full of new ideas.

219. Capable — having the ability or skill to do something.

220. Well-behaved — acting in a socially acceptable or polite way.

221. Considerable — large in size, amount, or importance.

222. Praise — to express approval or admiration.

223. Convert — to change from one form or purpose to another.

224. Sensitive — easily affected by feelings or external conditions.

225. Biased — unfairly favoring one side or opinion.

226. Misinform — to give wrong or misleading information.

227. Irrelevant — not connected or related to the matter at hand.

228. Inestimable — too great to be measured or calculated.

229. Precursor — something that comes before and signals the approach of another.

230. Detractors — people who criticize or speak against someone or something.

231. Collaborator — a person who works together with others.

232. Imitator — a person who copies others.

233. Dogmatic — stubbornly sticking to beliefs without considering others' opinions.

234. Vacillating — wavering between different opinions or actions.

235. Banal — boringly ordinary or predictable.

236. Disingenuous — not sincere or honest.

237. Excessive — more than necessary or reasonable.

238. Equivalence — equality in value, amount, or meaning.

239. Interaction — communication or direct involvement between people or things.

240. Solitary — done or existing alone.

241. Expansion — the act of growing or increasing in size or amount.

242. Reform — to make changes in order to improve something.

243. Possession — ownership or control of something.

244. Awkward — uncomfortable or clumsy in manner or situation.

245. Competent — having the necessary ability or knowledge to do something well.

246. Conference — a formal meeting for discussion.

247. Remark — a comment or statement.

248. Quintessential — representing the most perfect or typical example of something.

249. Sacred — regarded with great respect and reverence, often religious.

250. Unnerving — causing anxiety or discomfort.

251. Negate — to nullify or make ineffective; to deny the existence or truth of something.

252. Unveiled — revealed or disclosed for the first time.

253. Similar — having a likeness or resemblance to something else.

254. Censure — to express strong disapproval or criticism.

255. Coerce — to force someone to do something against their will.

256. Ensconce — to settle securely or comfortably.

257. Circumscribe — to limit or restrict something within bounds.

258. Castigate — to criticize or reprimand severely.

259. Benefactor — a person who gives help, especially financial aid.

260. Framework — a basic structure underlying a system or concept.

261. Interpretation — the explanation or understanding of the meaning of something.

262. Reflection — serious thought or consideration; also an image seen in a mirror or surface.

263. Dispute — a disagreement or argument.

264. Unprepossessing — not attractive or appealing at first sight.

265. Uncanny — strange or mysterious, especially in an unsettling way.

266. Extensive — large in amount or area.

267. Complacent — self-satisfied and unconcerned, often to a fault.

268. Weary — tired or worn out.

269. Erratic — unpredictable or irregular in behavior or movement.

270. Impartial — fair and unbiased.

271. Vigilance — careful watchfulness for danger or problems.

272. Deliberation — careful consideration or discussion before making a decision.

273. Cynical — distrustful of others' motives; believing people act only out of selfishness.

274. Counterproductive — having the opposite effect of what is intended.

275. Implicit — implied though not directly expressed.

276. Indisputable — unable to be challenged or denied.

277. Indistinct — not clear or sharply defined.

278. Enigmatic — mysterious or difficult to understand.

279. Venerable — deserving respect because of age, wisdom, or character.

280. Multifarious — having many different parts or forms.

281. Inexplicable — unable to be explained or understood.

282. Enthralling — capturing and holding one's attention completely.

283. Inarticulate — unable to express ideas clearly.

284. Menacing — threatening or suggesting danger.

285. Evasion — the act of avoiding something, especially by trickery.

286. Resolute — determined and unwavering.

287. Misunderstood — wrongly interpreted or judged.

288. Humiliate — to cause someone to feel ashamed or embarrassed.

289. Supersede — to replace something older or less effective.

290. Admission — the act of allowing entry or confessing something.

291. Ameliorate — to improve or make better.

292. Reliant on — dependent on something or someone.

293. Superior to — better than or above in quality or status.

294. Allergy — a harmful reaction by the immune system to a substance.

295. Docket — a list or schedule of cases or events to be dealt with.

296. Sensitivity — the quality of being easily affected or responsive.

297. Aversion — a strong dislike or opposition to something.

298. Complimented — praised or expressed approval of someone or something.

299. Ineffectual — not producing the desired effect.

300. Overshadow — to appear more important or noticeable than something else.

301. Nonsensical — having no meaning; absurd or silly.

302. Unsupported — lacking evidence or justification.

303. Reckless — acting without care for consequences.

304. Substantiate — to provide evidence to support a claim.

305. Entail — to involve or require as a necessary part.

306. Transpose — to change the position of two things.

307. Contrivance of — a device or plan created to serve a purpose.

308. Adjunct to — something added to another thing but not essential.

309. Proxies for — substitutes or stand-ins representing something else.

310. Aberration in — a deviation from what is normal or expected.

311. Overhear — to accidentally hear something not intended for you.

312. Extort — to obtain something by force or threats.

313. Impugn — to challenge or attack as false or questionable.

314. Hamper — to hinder or obstruct progress.

315. Underscore — to emphasize or highlight something.

316. Superfluous — unnecessary or excessive.

317. Commonplace — ordinary or unremarkable.

318. Subdue — to bring under control, often by force.

319. Inversion — the reversal of the normal order of things.

320. Retroactively — applying to a period in the past.

321. Ceremonially — relating to formal events or rituals.

322. Dissipate — to scatter or disappear gradually.

323. Terminate — to bring to an end.

324. Recur — to happen again or repeatedly.

325. Suppress — to put an end to or prevent something.

326. Unflattering — making someone or something look bad.

327. Imprecise — not exact or accurate.

328. Impossible — not able to happen or be done.

329. Implausible — not believable or likely.

330. Lean — thin or lacking excess fat; also to incline or depend.

331. Bypass — to go around or avoid something.

332. Surrender — to give up or yield control.

333. Accidental — happening by chance, not planned.

334. Expensive — costing a lot of money.

335. Unmistakable — clearly recognizable or obvious.

336. Idiosyncratic — peculiar to an individual; distinctive.

337. Attribute — a quality or characteristic; also to credit something to a cause.

338. Allude — to refer indirectly to something.

339. Refer — to mention or direct attention to something.

340. Entrust — to give responsibility or care to someone.

341. Inextricable — impossible to separate or escape from.

342. Subvert — to undermine or overthrow.

343. Presaged by — indicated or warned of beforehand.

344. Incongruous with — not in harmony or fitting with.

345. Shelter — protection from danger or weather.

346. Held up — delayed or supported.

347. Replicate — to copy or reproduce exactly.

348. Begin — to start or commence.

349. Breadth of — the wide range or extent of something.

350. Apathy toward — lack of interest or concern about something.

351. Confusion about — uncertainty or lack of understanding regarding something.

352. Indoctrinate — to teach someone to accept a set of beliefs uncritically.

353. Appease — to calm or satisfy, often by giving in to demands.

354. Confound — to confuse or perplex someone.

355. Diffuse in — spread out or scattered within something.

356. Extraneous to — unrelated or irrelevant to a subject.

357. Pernicious to — causing harm or damage, often in a subtle or gradual way.

358. Insular in — isolated or narrow in outlook or experience.

359. Expound — to explain or present in detail.

360. Protract — to prolong or extend in time.

361. Permeate — to spread throughout or penetrate.

362. Elide — to omit or leave out, especially in speech or writing.

363. Persist — to continue firmly or obstinately despite difficulty.

364. Dispassionate in — impartial, not influenced by strong emotion.

365. Adept at — skilled or proficient in doing something.

366. Lighthearted about — cheerful and carefree regarding something.

367. Variable — likely to change; not consistent.

368. Contract — to reduce in size or enter into a formal agreement.

369. Implement — to put into effect or carry out.

370. Disseminate — to spread or distribute widely.

371. Circumvent — to find a way around an obstacle or rule.

372. Proponent — a person who advocates or supports a cause.

373. Assuage — to make an unpleasant feeling less intense.

374. Renew — to make something new again or restore.

375. Convey — to communicate or make known.

376. Amplify — to increase in strength or volume.

377. Denounce — to publicly condemn or criticize.

378. Misconstrue — to interpret wrongly.

379. Nullify — to make legally invalid or cancel out.

380. Denigrate — to criticize unfairly or belittle.

381. Arcane — known or understood by few; mysterious.

382. Defunct — no longer existing or functioning.

383. Ubiquitous — present everywhere at the same time.

384. Disparage — to speak slightingly of; to belittle.

385. Compound — to make something worse by adding to it; also a mixture of elements.

386. Outstrip — to surpass or exceed.

387. Stymie — to hinder or obstruct progress.

388. Contingent on — dependent on certain conditions or events.

389. Obligated to — required or compelled to do something.

390. Inhibited by — held back or restrained by something.

391. Reserve for — to set aside for a particular purpose or person.

392. Intangible — unable to be touched or physically measured; abstract.

393. Repeatable — able to be done again.

394. Explicable — able to be explained.

395. Indulgently — showing tolerance or leniency.

396. Reverentially — with deep respect or awe.

397. Deference to — respectful submission or yielding to the judgment of another.

398. Collaboration with — working together with others.

399. Competition with — rivalry with others for the same goal or prize.

400. Brood on — to think deeply or worry persistently about something.

401. Insurmountable — impossible to overcome.

402. Overreach — to go beyond one's limits or authority.

403. Eclipse — to overshadow or surpass.

404. Augment — to make larger or increase.

405. Spurious — false or not genuine.

406. Scrupulous — very careful and precise; morally honest.

407. Palpable — able to be touched or felt; obvious.

408. Compulsory — required or mandatory.

409. Tranquil — calm and peaceful.

410. Reprieve — a temporary relief from punishment or difficulty.

411. Imply — to suggest without stating directly.

412. Inconclusive — not leading to a firm conclusion.

413. Coalesce — to come together to form one whole.

414. Enact — to make into law or put into action.

415. Haphazard — lacking order or planning; random.

416. Contentious — causing or likely to cause disagreement.

417. Arduous — requiring great effort; difficult.

418. Substitute — to replace one thing with another.

419. Summation — a summary or conclusion.

420. Conjecture — an opinion or conclusion formed without complete evidence.

421. Exemplification — the act of illustrating by example.

422. Ambivalent — having mixed or contradictory feelings.

423. Counterfactual — relating to what did not happen; contrary to facts.

424. Analogical — based on analogy or comparison.

425. Associative — connected in the mind by relation or experience.

426. Efficacy — effectiveness in producing a desired result.

427. Rubble — broken fragments of stone, brick, or concrete.

428. Precedent in — an earlier event or decision that serves as a guide.

429. Sporadic — occurring irregularly or occasionally.

430. Validate — to confirm or support the truth or value of something.

431. Presuppose — to assume beforehand.

432. Desultory — lacking a plan or purpose; random.

433. Notional — existing as an idea or concept, not reality.

434. Veritable — used to emphasize truth or accuracy.

435. Recalcitrant — stubbornly resisting authority or control.

436. Earnest — serious and sincere.

437. Sanguine — optimistic or positive, especially in a difficult situation.

438. Misanthropic — having a dislike or distrust of humankind.

439. Disengage — to detach or separate.

440. Exorbitant — unreasonably high (price or demand).

441. Demarcate from — to set the boundaries or limits of something.

442. Reconstitute as — to rebuild or restore something into a particular form.

443. Conflate with — to combine two or more things into one.

444. Discretion — the quality of behaving or speaking in a careful, prudent way.

445. Ambiguity — the quality of being open to more than one interpretation.

446. Concealment — the act of hiding something.

447. Subside — to become less intense or severe.

448. Rejuvenate — to make something look or feel younger or fresher.

449. Converge — to come together from different directions.

450. Resolve — to find a solution or make a firm decision.

451. Unattainable — impossible to achieve or reach.

452. Equitable — fair and impartial.

453. Contemplate — to think about deeply or carefully.

454. Solidify — to make firm or stronger.

455. Extricate — to free or remove from a difficult situation.

456. Hindsight — understanding of a situation after it has happened.

457. Acclaim — enthusiastic and public praise.

458. Default — failure to fulfill an obligation; standard or automatic option.

459. Harbinger — a sign or warning of something to come.

460. Exemplar — a perfect example or model.

461. Sanction — official permission or approval; or a penalty for disobedience.

462. Incongruity — something that does not fit or is out of place.

463. Circumspection — cautious observation or consideration before acting.

464. Attrition — gradual reduction or weakening.

465. Prank — a practical joke or mischievous act.

466. Amass — to gather or collect a large amount.

467. Intercede — to intervene on behalf of someone.

468. Appeal — a serious or urgent request; also a legal process to seek review.

469. Concur with — to agree with.

470. Evince — to show clearly or demonstrate.

471. Accumulate — to gather or build up gradually.

472. Isolate — to separate from others.

473. Belie — to give a false impression or contradict.

474. Acquire — to obtain or gain possession of.

475. Subtlety — the quality of being delicate or precise; a fine distinction.

476. Sophistication — complexity or refinement.

477. Entice — to attract or tempt.

478. Envision — to imagine or picture in the mind.

479. Perceptible — able to be seen or noticed.

480. Dwindling — gradually decreasing.

481. Permissible — allowed or permitted.

482. Infeasible — not possible to do easily or conveniently.

483. Unfailingly — consistently and reliably.

484. Self-servingly — acting in one's own interest.

485. Grudgingly — reluctantly or unwillingly.

486. Disfavor — disapproval or dislike.

487. Understate — to present something as less important than it is.

488. Influence — the capacity to have an effect on someone or something.

489. Forestall — to prevent or delay something by taking action ahead of time.

490. Fraudulent — dishonest or deceitful.

491. Authentic — genuine or real.

492. Presumptuous — overstepping proper bounds; arrogant.

493. Presumable — capable of being assumed or supposed.

494. Bestow on — to give as a gift or honor.

495. Wrought by — created or caused by.

496. Allocate to — to distribute or assign resources or duties.

497. Immense — extremely large or great.

498. Embarrass — to cause someone to feel awkward or ashamed.

499. Epitomize — to be a perfect example of something.

500. Exaggerate — to represent something as greater than it is.

501. Opportune for — well-timed or favorable for something.

502. Capitalize — to take advantage of an opportunity.

503. Elicit — to draw out a response or reaction.

504. Discredit — to harm the reputation of; to show as untrue.

505. Retrieve — to get something back.

506. Halting — hesitant or stopping frequently.

507. Hallmark — a distinguishing characteristic or feature.

508. Integrate with — to combine or bring together.

509. Commend — to praise formally.

510. Preserve — to keep safe from harm or decay.

511. Rationalize — to justify or explain logically.

512. Perfunctory — done without enthusiasm or thoroughness.

513. Utopian — idealistic and impractical.

514. Punitive — intended as punishment.

515. Viable — capable of working successfully.

516. Defer — to postpone or delay.

517. Renounce — to give up or reject formally.

518. Displace — to take the place of something or someone.

519. Original — novel, fresh, or inventive.

520. Ongoing — continuing; not finished.

521. Interchangeable — able to be exchanged or replaced.

522. Emblematic — serving as a symbol.

523. Subordinate — lower in rank or position.

524. Ambiguous — unclear or having multiple meanings.

525. Inhibit — to hold back or restrain.

526. Catalyze — to cause or accelerate a reaction or change.

527. Evade — to escape or avoid.

528. Support — to back up or hold up.

529. Omit — to leave out or exclude.

530. Static — lacking movement or change.

531. Enumerate — to list one by one.

532. Abridge — to shorten a text without losing the sense.

533. Immoderate — excessive or extreme.

534. Realized — achieved or made real.

535. Unappreciate — not grateful or undervalue.

536. Compress — to press or squeeze together.

537. Predicate — to base something on.

538. Intermediate — in the middle or between two points.

539. Overcome — to successfully deal with or defeat.

540. Compel — to force or drive.

541. Impartiality — fairness; lack of bias.

542. Substantial — of considerable importance or size.

543. Surpass — to go beyond or exceed.

544. Interrupt — to stop the continuous progress of something.

545. Exceed — to go beyond a limit.

546. Categorize — to place in a category or group.

547. Encapsulate — to summarize or enclose in a capsule.

548. Curtail — to reduce or cut short.

549. Fortitude — courage in pain or adversity.

550. Perturbation — a disturbance or disruption.

551. Nonchalance — casual lack of concern; indifference.

552. Indolence — avoidance of activity or exertion; laziness.

553. Abatement — reduction or decrease.

554. Aggregation — a collection or gathering of things.

555. Dearth — a scarcity or lack of something.

556. Dissonance — lack of harmony or agreement; conflict.

557. Turnover — the rate at which employees leave and are replaced; also total sales.

558. Remove — to take away or eliminate.

559. Rank — a position in a hierarchy; also can mean strong or offensive in smell or taste.

560. Unfold — to open or reveal something gradually.

561. Diminish — to make or become smaller or less.

562. Increase — to become or make greater in size or amount.

563. Vary — to change or alter.

564. Measure — to assess or determine the size, amount, or degree of something.

565. Anomalous — deviating from what is standard or expected; abnormal.

566. Coincidental — happening by chance without apparent cause.

567. Analyses — detailed examinations or studies of something.

568. Distort — to twist out of shape or misrepresent.

569. Neglect — failure to care for properly.

570. Supplement — something added to complete or enhance.

571. Particular — specific or special.

572. Involve — to include or engage.

573. Expected — regarded as likely or probable.

574. Evident — clearly seen or understood.

575. Induce — to cause or bring about.

576. Material — important or relevant; also physical substance.

577. Decouple — to separate or disengage.

578. Mediate — to intervene to resolve a dispute.

579. Perform — to carry out an action or task.

580. Prevent — to stop something from happening.

581. Exploit — to make use of, often unfairly or selfishly.

582. Impede — to hinder or obstruct.

583. Contribution — something given or added to help.

584. Perception — the way something is understood or interpreted.

585. Application to — the act of putting something to use for a purpose.

586. Ignore — to pay no attention to.

587. Identify — to recognize or establish as being.

588. Reveal — to make known or show.

589. Remember — to recall or bring back to mind.

590. Appeal to — to attract or be relevant to.

591. Elasticity — the ability to return to original shape after stretching; flexibility.

592. Reciprocity — mutual exchange or cooperation.

593. Cohesion — the act of sticking together or unity.

594. Affection — a feeling of fondness or love.

595. Warranted — justified or deserved.

596. Rigor — strictness, severity, or thoroughness.

597. Obscurity — the state of being unknown or unclear.

598. Shallowness — lack of depth, either literal or figurative.

599. Novelty — the quality of being new or unusual.

600. Disliked — not liked or unfavored.

601. Confusing — causing bewilderment or lack of clarity.

602. Exciting — causing enthusiasm or eagerness.

603. Dynamic — characterized by constant change or activity.

604. Immutable — unchangeable over time.

605. Unrivaled — having no equal; unmatched.

606. Sustainable — able to be maintained over time without depletion.

607. Authorize — to give official permission.

608. Sarcastic — using irony to mock or convey contempt.

609. Visionary — having clear, original ideas about the future.

610. Outdated — old-fashioned or obsolete.

611. Varied — showing diversity or difference.

612. Forgotten — no longer remembered.

613. Lonely — feeling sad because of being alone.

614. Resolution — a firm decision or solution to a problem.

615. Justification — the reason or explanation for something.

616. Negotiation — discussion aimed at reaching an agreement.

617. Jointly — together with others.

618. Reluctantly — unwillingly or hesitantly.

619. Peculiar — strange or unusual.

620. Nostalgic — feeling sentimental longing for the past.

621. Dispassionate — not influenced by strong emotion; impartial.

622. Provocative — causing strong reaction or stimulating thought.

623. Irrefutable — impossible to deny or disprove.

624. Pretentious — attempting to impress by affecting greater importance.

625. Amalgamate — to combine or unite into one.

626. Promulgate — to officially announce or make known.

627. Consolidate — to combine into a more effective or coherent whole.

628. Defy — to openly resist or refuse to obey.

629. Foretell — to predict or forecast.

630. Exhibit — to show or display.

631. Unfounded — not based on fact or evidence.

632. Melodic — having a pleasant melody or tune.

633. Unbolt — to open by removing bolts or fasteners.

634. Feasible — possible to do easily or conveniently.

635. Decisiveness — the ability to make decisions quickly and firmly.

636. Concentrate — to focus all attention or effort on something.

637. Realize — to become fully aware of something; to achieve.

638. Decry — to publicly denounce or criticize.

639. Steward — a person who manages or looks after something.

640. Facetious — treating serious issues with inappropriate humor.

641. Inertia — resistance to change in motion or condition.

642. Summarize — to give a brief statement of the main points.

643. Expediency — the quality of being convenient and practical despite possibly being improper.

644. Fecundity — fertility or ability to produce abundantly.

645. Expedite — to speed up or facilitate.

646. Apprentice — a person learning a trade from a skilled employer.

647. Considerate — showing concern for others' feelings.

648. Coordinate — to organize so parts work together effectively.

649. Put down — to insult or belittle; also to write down.

650. Inexplicable — impossible to explain or understand.